MR. ARCHIBALD STUART is still trying to promote the Burley Growers Association, while the Burley Growers are trying to see how much Burley they can grow.

IN a New York Prison the educational course for convicts will be broadened to include lectures on law. If these lectures include "criminal law," as expounded by the TOM-CAMEL ilk of criminal lawyers, they will serve to show the poor convicts how easily they might have gone to Congress instead of to Sing Sing.

THE Goebel Monument Commission has selected another design for the statue of the late Senator. The pose is a life-size figure, standing, with left hand resting on a table, and right arm extended almost full length. A more appropriate design would have been the right arm crooked at elbow, an overcoat thrown over the forearm, concealing a pistol in the right hand.

WE humbly suggest that the Editor of THE LEDGER offer a prize for the best essay on "What to Do With the Defunct Woggle Bug." It might be the means of stimulating city interest in the huge and expensive machine. —Evening Bulletin.

Capital idea, neighbor; so here goes. The prize will be a round-trip ticket to Aberdeen, the winner to be selected by a Committee of Mossbacks. The only stipulations are that those competing shall not intimate that the "Wog." has been sidetracked because it can neither vote nor "set 'em up."

WHEN a community gets a good official, it should be slow to displace him; when it doesn't, a "new deal" is very desirable.

IN describing the attack on a Japanese convoy, May 20th, the Tokio correspondent of The London Daily Telegraph says—

"Despite the prominent display of Red Cross badges the Cossacks fired volleys at close quarters and then charged with drawn swords, with the result that many non-combatants were killed or wounded. Some of the Russians dismounted and used their bayonets. The steel was thrust down the mouths of the Japanese and their heads were nearly cut off and their bodies disemboweled. Finally the Cossacks burned and otherwise destroyed all medicines and medical appliances."

And yet there are people who insist that the Russians are Christians.

AT a recent social function in Washington says the correspondent of The Times-Star, the ladies were asked to play "Bridge" after luncheon. One unsuspecting matron of the capital was about to make her departure for home when the other ladies at her table politely informed her that she had been "stung" for $80 as her share of the afternoon's losses. She replied that she had no money with her and was unaware they were playing for stakes. Her husband the next day sent the hostess a check for $85 and added a note, saying that the extra $5 would pay for his wife's luncheon.

THEY are waking up at last! Business men, Sociologists and others, responding to a call of the New York Civic Federation, have begun a formal discussion of the immigration question. While it has been estimated frequently that at least 60% of the immigrants arriving at that port remain in New York, the overcrowded condition of the East Side streets and tenements during the past six months has awakened new interest in the matter, and plans will be discussed for ridding the city of the burden. Some authorities estimate that in Greater New York nearly 100,000 English speaking families are on the verge of destitution because of the influx of cheap labor.

Liquid Delight

Every one seems agreed that for every quality that goes to make soda water good our soda water is pre-eminent. It is not only good, but the most delightful perfect soda. A cold draught of such deliciousness that you would not exchange it for the fabled nectar.

It's so different from soda water as commonly served as to seem another beverage, yet it costs just the same as you have paid for the insipid kind.

The merchant who wishes to reach people who buy goods, puts his advertisement in a paper that people read; the merchant who throws his money away, gives his advertisement to the fakir who promises to put it on a card and hang it up on a street corner.

Not less than 5,000 people read THE LEDGER $12 daily in the year. This makes a total of 1,800,000 readers in a year.

Do you want your name and business repeated that often within the next twelve months?

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will, on Monday, July 23, 1906, enter a motion in the Mason County Court for his discharge as Assignee of H. W. Rapp.

J. L. WALSH, Assignee.

THAT'S THE LEDGER.

The Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage says—
"A newspaper whose columns overflow with the advertisements of business men has more influence in attracting attention to and building up a city or town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where there is business. Capital and labor will locate where there is enterprising community. No power on earth is so strong to build up a town as newspapers well patronized, and this power should be appreciated."

Newspaper English

Cincinnati Times-Star.

Henry James's indictment of "newspaper English" has provoked the storm. Probably the justest comment would be that the truly marvelous about "English as she is printed" in the newspapers is that it is no worse than it is. Working at high speed, under tremendous pressure, and unable to more than scantily revise proofs, the ordinary newspaper man, who has about as keen a perception of what constitutes the English language as the ordinary critic, is always congratulating himself that his standard is as high as it is. He knows and grieves over the imperfections of his English, but he also knows the difficulties under which he labors. In fact, any newspaper man would be willing to bet a week's wages, as much money as he ever has at one time, that any article he may write will be superior to that written by his critics if produced under similar conditions.

He has no time to lay out an orderly plan; he has no time to choose the exact word; he is surrounded by clicking telegraph instruments, the clatter of the telephone bell, the movement of twenty or thirty men and he is interrupted by the demand for "copy" and the calls of visitors—but despite all this he produces something that is fairly grammatical and that certainly has the merit of being intelligently understood. Or let any one of the critics of newspaper "English" sit at the end of a telegraph wire in a convention, the other end being in his home office, and amid all the noise and din attempt to write a connected and lucid account of the proceedings as they happen, the "copy" being taken from him page by page, indeed, sometimes word by word, and the newspaper man will have his revenge. Unless he has had previous newspaper training the critic will forever afterward hold his peace.

A newspaper man will write every day from 1,000 to 2,000 words, in addition to gathering

Cuban Diarrhea.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish War know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon, as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors, but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by all Druggists.

River News

The Tacoma will be the Pomeroy boat down today.

The Florence Marmet passed down with a good sized tow of Kanawha coal.

The Henry M. Stanley will be up tonight for Pomeroy and the Keystone State for Pittsburgh.

The Fallie is to do harbor work in the Cincinnati District for the remainder of the season.

Captain John Rust, aged 52, of the steamer Otto Marmet, fell dead at Gallipolis Tuesday as a result of excessive heat.

The packet companies are having a prosperous time, as traveling on the river is cooler than by rail, and the scenery at this time of the year is very pleasing.

The survey for a nine-foot stage in the Ohio will start within a month. The $56,000 appropriated by the War Department will become available July 1st, and work is expected to begin shortly after that date. The Engineers have been allowed two years to complete their work, but it is thought the survey can be finished in a year.

An examination of the hull of the W. W. O'Neill, which was sunk in the Canal at Louisville a few days ago and later taken to Cincinnati and pulled out of the river on the Queen City Machine Ways, showed that a hole about 16 feet long and 5 feet wide had been torn in the hull. It is estimated that it will take about two weeks to make the boat sea-worthy.
